Last Night's Report.

FROM Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—[By Star & Intercontinental Telegraph.]—The following of Booth and Herold recorded Garrett's account of the pursuit:

Booth was walking on crutches with a party of four or five accompanying them, when spoke of Booth as a wounded man, and asked him to give way. Booth refused to leave him there a short time, but was finally induced to do so. Booth then mounted his horse, and Herold endeavored to assist him, but Booth refused, and rushed on crutches about six paces, compelling at his side. He and Herold apparently took the same course. Booth was then lost sight of. Herold remained with Garrett's party. Booth in the course of the day rather told the impression he was the man Surratt was personally acquainted with, and that he was in the habit of visiting Surratt's house frequently. Booth, during that time, was also frequently in company with Herold. Booth's presence that rewards amounting to $170,000 had been offered for Booth, and that he would like to catch him, when Booth replied that he would be a good boy, but the money would be useless to him.

Garrett's party then left Herold and Booth in the woods, and on Sunday morning they were joined by Jett and Boyd, who had been with Booth and Herold all night. Booth, Herold and Jett then went to Garrett's house, and remained there all day Monday. Garrett's party then left them, Booth and Herold, and went to Port Conway, on the Rappahannock river, and crossed the river in a ferry boat. [illegible]

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF TOLEDO.

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 28, 1865.

THE NEWS.

A fight took place on the 24th between 24 guerillas and 40 men near Brandenburg, Ky., resulting in the capture of most of the former. A guerilla was hung at Louisville, yesterday.

A Cincinnati Gun despatch of the 27th says a struggle to the number of one hundred came in there and were paroled the previous day. Among them a part of Dunn's command. The rebel soldiers are constantly coming and it is impossible to keep an account of them.

Generally all the rebels in that region will have surrendered.

General Dawes on the 24th received command of the District of the Gulf, relieving Gen. Canby, who commands the Division of the West Mississippi.

The Grand Jury at Toronto have found a true bill of indictment against J. Thompson, C. C. Clay, W. H. Cleary, W. Lawrence, McDonald and Bennet. These are rebel conspirators who have spent the last two years in plotting treason against this country under the protection of the British flag, and it seems to us time that the British authorities were doing something towards bringing them to justice.

Two New York merchants have been appointed to the Secretary of War to offer a reward of half a million dollars for the capture of Jeff Davis alive. If the Secretary appoints a third man to offer the other half million, we will be satisfied. If the conspiracy of Booth and Davis is proved, they deserve to be hung.

The Secretary of War has issued a proclamation declaring that the ports of Galveston, Brazos Santiago, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Aransas, Saluria, Indianola, Port Lavaca, Matagorda, Velasco, Sabine Pass, Calcasieu, Berwick's Bay, Vermillion, Tampico, Alvarado, Goatzacoalcos, Frontera, Sisal, Campeachy, Carmen, Laguna, Tuxpan, Nautla, Tampico, Metamoras, Bagdad, Point Isabel, Aransas Pass, Galveston

MUSICAL NOTE—In what key would a tenor write a proposal of marriage? Be minor, sir.

MENTAL ARITHMETIC—Cudgeling one's brains for ideas.

Well, Patrick, and where did you come from last night? "From the Emerald Isle, sir."

"Pat," said a humorous lieutenant the other day to the patrolling digester, "do you call yourself a sentinel, if in pairs, but to my thinking it's a beautiful old saw!" Ahem!

The editor of a decentralizing paper on the West says:

A man needs grace to edit a religious paper and he needs more grace to edit a secular one; he has the thousand sins.

A young lady was heard to declare that she couldn't go to sleep for the country, but that she was willing to allow the young men to go,and the old could, which the listening editor was at once a sacrifice as any could be called upon to make.

The Pottsgrove Ass advanced on the following legal point:

MAN SON: Perhaps you don't know that I has gone to the communal deff, he was gratified last night to see of the witness of the supposes the flying artillery. I swear to the Hessians, bilbo, pistol, and knife, and the world got shot, under which I would'nt. LEGGIN: Well, I suppose you will come with experts from Sam, and I swear to you on your face, and your feelings, as he can get his minded particular, for he wishes to see you. I'll be there in their lessenies, and I thank what an awful thing the world is! Some one was shot. What I used to sing "I want to be angel," I'll sin no more. I'll be a angel, and I'll be a angel, and I'll be angel." Love in Columbus. He says the real will be sorry soon. I'll be sorry for the whole business. I'll be sorry. I'll be sorry. I'll be sorry
